

'Making a Mark'

Mark Holder Social Impact Declaration

Art4Space

Art4Space is a leading Community Arts Organisation, established to address social, education and health issues using the arts to inspire and strengthen communities.

Over the years we have built up a strong level of trust, professional acumen and have demonstrated vast social impact. Giving people creative experiences and putting high quality art work into the public realm is what drives Art4Space.

The Social Enterprise Mark criteria includes a requirement for all applicants and renewing Mark Holders to provide at least three 'social impact statements', which illustrate how they are striving to meet their social/environmental objectives.

Below are examples of how Art4Space is making a mark, striving to make a difference to society:

Leading and inspiring others

Art4Space are innovative and able to inspire and lead others, for example our 'Birds Fly to Africa' project reached out to thousands raising awareness about global partnerships and sustainable education projects.

Creating positive change through community art

Working with housing associations and community groups running targeted and open access workshops in the heart of communities, we have completed 15 community art commissions this year.

Focusing on our cause

We are focused on our cause and demonstrate an integrity that means we are trusted by the communities we work with. We have increased our Facebook following to nearly 1,000 likes and more people than ever are now accessing our services.
